FEATHER LICE:

This is a time when you will need good clear vision. Feather lice are fairly easy to see on black feathered birds but almost impossible to see on white or light feathered birds. Many breeders keep a pair of magnifying glasses in their coop or storage box just for this purpose. The best way to avoid this problem is to keep your birds clean or treated for lice & mites on a regular basis. This includes keeping that coop clean too. For showmanship be able to tell the judge how you treat this problem.
