Mission Statement:

The Youth Exhibition Poultry Association is devoted to educating youth to build a strong foundation in keeping poultry bred to the “Standards” of, and according to The American Poultry Association and the American Bantam Association. We are an educational association committed to educating youth to raise healthy poultry according to the USDA and the National Poultry Improvement Plan standards. Our goal is to encourage youth to become an integral part of the poultry hobby, participate in local community activities and educate others about the importance of raising healthy poultry.
